A SALUTE TO VETERANS AND MSU YOUTH AND CHILDRENS CHOIRS AT YOUR CHARLOTTE PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

Charlotte, MI, November 3, 2015– Saturday, November 7 at 7:00pm is your last chance to catch the Charlotte High School Drama Department’s production of Singin’ In The Rain. Tickets are still available. The box office will open at 7:00pm for the final performance of the show.

Your Charlotte Performing Arts Center is the place to be this coming week when the bands from Charlotte High School present “A Veteran’s Salute” on Tuesday, November 10 at 7:30pm. The concert will feature the Charlotte High School Concert Band in their debut concert for the year. Among the band’s selections for the evening will be the Coast Guard’s March. The Charlotte High School Symphony Band will be presenting a variety of selections including American Fanfare and Colonel Bogey. The Symphony Band will also be joined by guest vocalist from Steven Bowen, member of the jazz ensemble Gold Company. The night will wrap up with both the Concert and Symphony Bands joining forces for A Salute to America’s Finest. Admission to this concert is free – so come out to salute and honor all of those who have so diligently and selflessly served our nation proud.

On Saturday, November 14 at 4:00pm, the Community School of Music Youth and Children’s Choirs from Michigan State University will be taking to the stage at Your Charlotte Performing Arts Center to present an afternoon of music. This combined group feature over 200 of the best young vocalists from around the greater Lansing region and beyond. This is the group’s premiere appearance at your Charlotte Performing Arts Center. So join us as we present a delightful afternoon of stunning musicianship from the area’s finest youth.
