CHARLOTTE UPPER ELEMENTARY DONATES TO CHRISTMAS KIDDIES

Anyone who has lived in Charlotte over the past 100 years is familiar with the Charlotte Fire Department's Christmas Kiddie Program. They have been making Christmas Eve deliveries from their fire trucks to underprivileged children for more than 100 years. What you may not know is that the Charlotte Upper Elementary is a strong supporter of this program. Mrs. Kineman's resource room operates a student store that donates a portion of its profits to Christmas Kiddies. By purchasing pencils, pens, erasers and other school supplies, the students at the CUE support this charity. This season, the store was able to donate $200.00 to Firemen Zach and Johnny to use for purchasing toys for the Christmas Kiddie Program. They explained the long history of the Christmas Kiddies and the fact that they reach as many as 500 children a year.
