CHS Students End the School Year With Oriole PRIDE

The following students were recognized over the last couple of weeks for showing Oriole PRIDE at Charlotte High School through weekly prize drawings:

Mason Mock showed integrity, and won spirit pack from the Charlotte Athletic Boosters, donated by Wells Fargo, and a Wells Fargo water bottle. Alex Whitney showed excellence and purpose, and won a spirit pack from the Charlotte Athletic Boosters, donated by Wells Fargo, and a Wells Fargo water bottle.

Lindsay Nichols showed dedication and excellence, and won a spirit pack from the Charlotte Athletic Boosters, donated by Wells Fargo, and a Wells Fargo water bottle. Hannah Jones showed excellence and won a spirit pack from the Charlotte Athletic Boosters, donated by Wells Fargo, and a Wells Fargo water bottle. Curtis White showed purpose, and won a dri-fit Nike shirt, donated by the Charlotte Athletic Boosters.

Charlotte High School would like to thank all of the community organizations who donated prizes or funds toward the Oriole PRIDE program this year. It has been a resounding success, significantly decreasing discipline referrals and out of school suspensions, and significantly increasing a positive culture and pride in the school. Thank you, and GO ORIOLES!
