CHARLOTTE UPPER ELEMENTARY ELECTS STUDENT COUNCIL

The Charlotte Upper Elementary (CUE) has elected its Student Council for the 2016-17 school year. According to Tamra Weissenborn, fifth grade teacher and council advisor, 18 candidates, six per grade level, were selected by a student body vote after presenting their essays on the qualities they possess that make a strong leader. "It was a very close race and we had outstanding candidates," Weissenborn said. "I'm looking forward to working with this group. They already have ideas for what they want to accomplish this year. They've really hit the ground running," she added. First on the agenda is having all students and families signed up for "Fuel Up to Play 60," a national organization that partners schools with the NFL and the US Dairy Association to promote healthy living to our youth. Other ideas on the list are a talent show, lunchtime taste tests, spirit days, a visit to an assisted living facility, and a mannequin challenge. Congratulations to the newest Student Council members! Go Orioles!
