CHS ANGEL TREE

We have all heard that it only takes one voice, one action, and one person to make a huge difference. So just imagine what happened when a whole school came together to help some children in our community. Students from Charlotte High School took angel ornaments from a tree in the lobby of the school, went shopping and bought presents for a child, wrapped them, and brought them back to the high school. The need in the community more than doubled from 2016 and yet the students, teachers, and staff from Charlotte High School and Parkview Elementary all came together to help out. More than 130 presents were collected for the children receiving support from SIREN/Eaton Shelter!

In addition, several of the students worked with SIREN/Eaton Shelter to provide a holiday party for the children. There was food for families and the children were able to decorate cookies, make a holiday ornament, and get a present from Santa. All of the support was overwhelming and such a great demonstration of how a simple act can make such a real difference in someone else's life! #OriolePride #BeAHero
