Dear Parkview Parents,

I hope you are all enjoying this mild Michigan weather. Not sure if it will stay, but boots are still needed here at school. Our playground is very wet!

Please find attached a letter that was written by our CUE principal, Mr. McGarry. It seems there is a new game, called Momo that has been developed that could have harmful effects for our students. Please be assured this has not become a topic of conversation here at our level of students, but I did want you to be aware.

Holiday Happenings is this Thursday from 6:00-7:30 right here at Parkview. Santa and his wife will be here for students to have their pictures with, Santa's Secret Shoppe envelopes will be coming home tomorrow for you to make your lists of those you would like to shop for at our very affordable store set up in the library, cookie decorating and movie watching in the gym, and games. This is a fun event for the whole family to enjoy as we kick off the holiday season.

Speaking of holidays, this is also the season of tired and emotional students! Please help us keep learning a top priority with keeping the bedtime routine and time the same. Reading logs will still be due on Fridays, even with the holiday specials on television!

Our school t-shirt orders went home on Friday. If you missed this order, we may do another in January if we have enough interest.

Enjoy the rest of the mild week before the white stuff returns.....KIM
