

February 01, 2019

Hello, Parkview Parents,

We have missed you here at Parkview and can't wait for the temperature to climb to see you on Monday.

We hope you have all been doing lots and lots of reading this week. Reading Logs will be due on Monday and Friday this coming week. So two chances to help your class add some links to their reading chains.

Our lunch for Monday will be pizza crunchers and bagel boats. Starting on Tuesday, we will start with the regular menu items listed on the February menu.

We are going to jump back a week for specials-so this next week will be Week 1 on the schedule.

For all of our 2nd and 3rd graders who would like to go swimming after school on Wednesday, we will be sending home the permission slip on Monday. We will need you to bring it right back in the next day.

Well, I hope the sun comes out and dries up all the land, but I am afraid boots will still be needed next week. This time it will be for mud!

Have a great weekend....KIM
